Two games, striling at 2300 o'clock.

Rain caused a postponement of the scheduled game between the Colts and Truckers at Broad Street Park yesterday afternoon, and-the contest will be featured as part of a double-header this afternoon, the first game starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Manager Ryan had his men at the park ready to play, but shortly before 4 o'clock a sharp shower came up, and the rain continued until long after the hour for starting the game.

Chagrined at the lossa of Monday's game, in which errors figured largely in the result. Manager Ryan gave the local players a serious talk, showing where they erred in omission as well as commission, and it is hoped that his talk will bear truit and the Colts start on a winning streak that will finally laud the bunting in this city.

The Colts now stand third in the league, five and a half games behind the leaders, and while the handicap appears large, it can be overcome it the players take a strong hold and pull for all there is in every game.

41 Games to Be Played.

Including to-day's games, the Colts have forty-one more games to play before the curtain drops at the end of the season. Of this number twenty-four are at home and seventeen on forcign soil. Should the locals win twenty-inne of the forty-one they will come mighty near landing the flag.

The balance of the schedule follows.

Double-headers.

The Colts have four Saturday double-headers at home and two away. They also have nine games with the leaders and four with Roanoke, now occupying the runner-up position. and four with Roanoke, now occupying the runner-up position.

With the fans giving the team encouragement and the players putting every ounce of energy into the game, it is not improbable that the pennant for the second half of the season will wave over the Broad Street Fark. So get together and pull with a strong, hard pull, and the Capital city fans will be able to enjoy a bost season series, while not for the world's title, will be equally as interesting.
